No matter how it is said, no matter what language is used, WE are what we are, WE are who we are because of our heritage, both biological and environmental. For US, many of the environmental factors have been furnished by Tempe High School. Our teachers, our classmates, our activities, our classroom work, all have shaped US, making US distinct individuals, yet sharing a common bond. These pages show US as WE are and were during 1980 and 1981.

The Horizon

The Annual Staff began with a bang, having the largest number of students in the past several years. However, only Editor Michelle Smith was a returnee from last year. So, many hours of frustration, learning by mistakes and experiences and re-doing page layouts were the order of the day. But through it all, the staff kept its sense of humor and its goal of turning out a top quality 1981 Horizon.

The Buffalo

Plagued by the problems inherent in a small staff, three seniors produced the first issue of The Buffalo by themselves. As soon as possible, members of the basic class were added and the newspaper continued to improve. First Semester Editor Chris Shaw graduated and headed to ASU, handing the reins to Senior Sharon Kaney. Though hampered by a shortage of printing money, Sharon continued to maintain the newspaper's high standards.

Altamira

Monsieur Wallace

This may sound phoney
but have a great summer and keep your nose clean

Jim Straub

Altamira, which translated means 'high views', is the literary magazine published annually. The magazine is composed of the poetry, short stories, art work and photography by the student body. Students are encouraged to submit their art works in the fall. The staff then reads and evaluates the material. Pieces for publication are chosen on the basis of high evaluations.

Staffers Tom, Jay, Liz, Roxanne and Kathy discuss and evaluate poems that may be put in the magazine.

Paige and Ernie chuckle over a humorous selection while Johica and Robinne look on.

Neal —

Even though we've only known each other for a couple of years now, you are still one of the sweetest & cuttest guys I've met in my whole life. I wish I could have seen more of you this year but hopefully next year we'll have a class or something together. Always stay the sweet person you are & you'll go far in life!! Maybe someday soon, we'll meet again at Royal Fork. Try if you can, to keep in touch this summer! (967-0124) Good luck in all you do! have a good summer!

Love —

Campus Life

Campus Life

Junior Frances Sotomayor joined many other Tempe High students at the semester break as she sold books which she would no longer need back to the bookstore.

All was not work at the DECA carwash in the Fall. Rather, some dancing (of a sorts) apparently took place. Posing at the apex of a rather ragged Can Can kick are Larry Lieberman, Dove Hicks, Adviser Mr. Pete Trowbridge, Marleen Ong, Laura Folz and Chris Shaw.

Apparently pleased by whatever or whoever she's watching is Senior Bobi Jenckes, very much at ease during her lunch break.

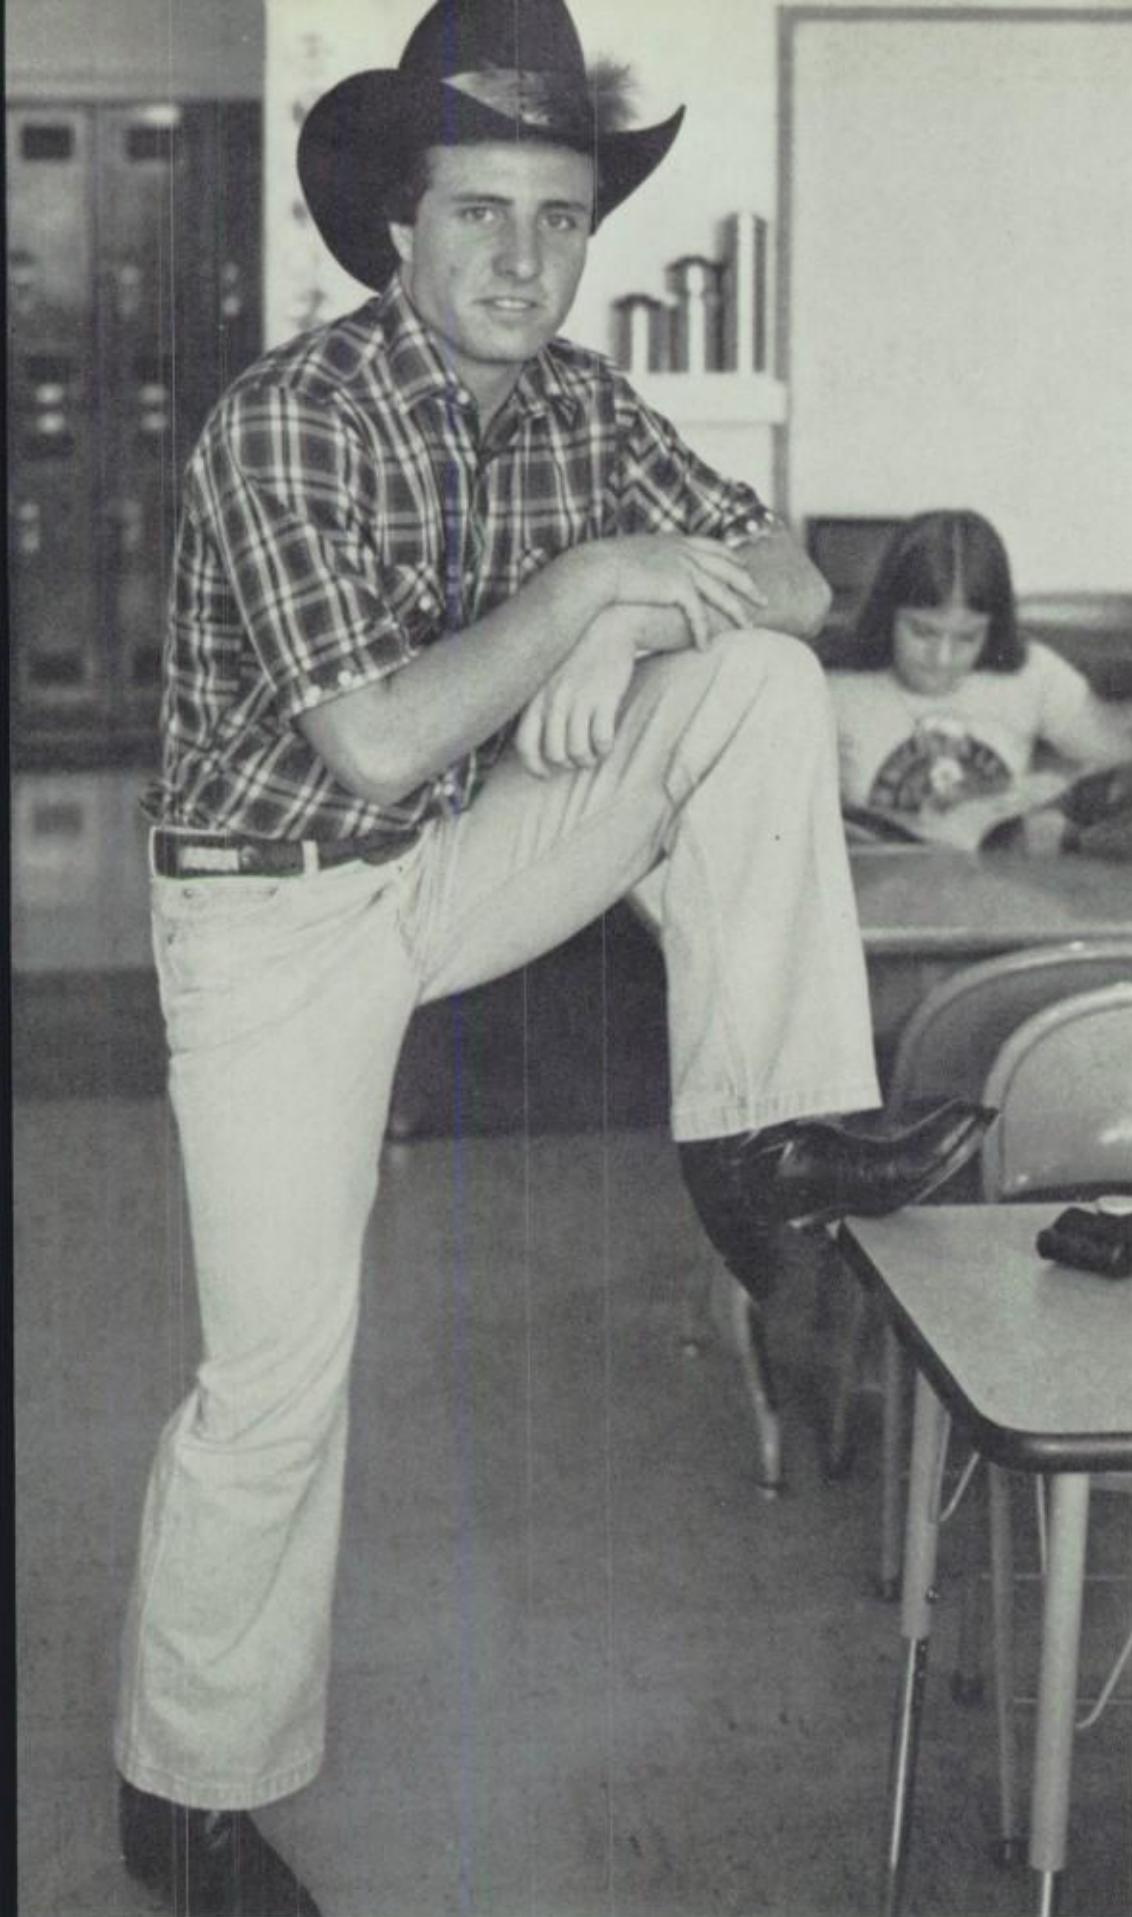

Football players wear a tie on the day of their game to signify team unity. But the lack of ties with normal dress in Tempe has its drawbacks. A guy quickly forgets how to tie one. But there are compensations as when Junior Scott West got a helping hand from Junior Jennifer Flannagan to get the maverick piece of cloth knotted tightly against his neck.

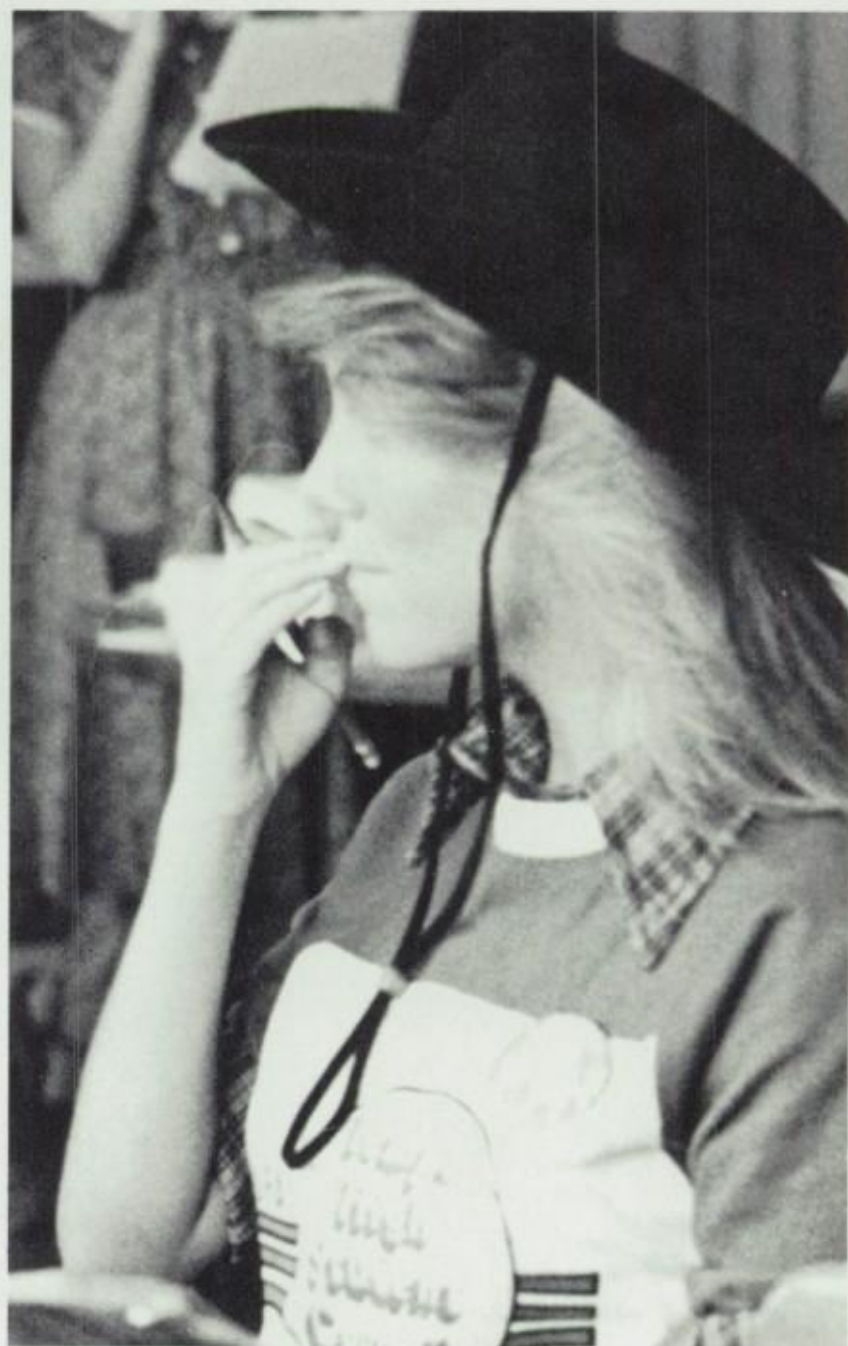

Bicycles remained one of the most popular models of transportation, particularly in these days of rising gasoline prices. Though most upper classmen preferred cars to the two wheelers, enough bikes transported Tempe High students to fill two security compounds.

The daily bus ride was not the favorite way to end a day. But hundreds depended on the big yellow transports to get them close enough to their homes that walking wasn't an unbearable chore.

Looking like he just rode in from the range is Senior Vic Mathews, sporting a black cowboy hat and boots. Though some THS students habitually wore the popular western gear, Vic was attired for one of the special dress-up days before a traditional game.

Senior class president Laura Folz was spirited during a western dress-up day to the point of the black cowboy hat.

'Nuff said. The charged up Buffaloes surprised an over confident, cocky crew of McClintock Chargers in the annual inter-city rivalry. Though Mac went on to take the state title, the Buffs could boast that they had beaten the AAA champions and had been only one game from facing them again in the finals.

Junior Robinne Gray listens intently to someone as she sips her milk during an outdoor lunch on one of Tempe's warm fall days. Her costume was typical of THS coeds.

Senior Sherri Smyth seems to threaten with the gavel as she speaks her mind during a meeting of DECA.

Hats appeared on many heads as part of the campus "fashion" scene. Football player Mike Nesbitt sports a billed cap with a bit of advertising on the front on a game day, the latter signified by the not too common necktie.

Sophomores

Jane Rollins, was the Sophomore Class secretary.

Class President Sheri Griffin leads a lively discussion about which class ring company to choose.

The Sophomores were relieved to know they were no longer Freshmen. They had taken a giant step toward being more readily accepted by the upper classmen.

Among their tasks were raising money for class projects and saving some money to help pay for next year's Prom which they will be responsible for. They sponsored dances and sold candy. And, they surmounted the conflicts and chose a class ring for the Class of 1983.

As usual, the Sophomores were very spirited and took several spirit awards. The class officers felt that it was a good year and that individuals in the class were very supportive.

Junior Class

Junior Class President Kathy Nakagawa leads a discussion on planned activities.

Boys and girls Representatives were David Matheson and Jonelle Musa.

Organizing the Junior — Senior Prom is not an easy job. In fact, it took the Junior Class Council almost the whole year. Planning for the Prom kept them busy because there were so many things to be done. Thinking of a theme, finding a band and interviewing photographers were just a few items on the agenda. The whole junior class participated in a candy sale in December, selling candy from their American History classes. All the money raised went towards the Prom. After all the hard work they put into their main project, and after all the time spent from the beginning of the school year to the night of the Prom, the few hours that it lasted went by much too quickly, but the juniors hope it was a memorable experience for everyone who took part.

Real,

I'm really glad I met you this year. You're a neat friend and a crappy guy! I'll always remember how long I scrubbed on your "O.P." to get that little stain out. We had a lot of fun in 1st ward. I still miss it sort of but 4th ward isn't bad. You're a real sweetie & you have a great personality. (Just to name a few qualities) I could write a whole page of good things about you but I wouldn't want to use 10 pages! I'll see ya hopefully over the summer at stake dances and stuff. Good luck next year and years to come. (Stay sweet and don't let the girls get to you! ^{ha!} ^{ha!})

P.S. Keep in touch Love Always,
